FACULTY SENATE

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
ON THE PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT COMMITTEE

September, 1988

The Executive Committee recommends that the Faculty Senate approve the addition of the following new sections 5.40.10 - 5.40.11 to the University Manual:

5.40.10 The Prior Learning Assessment Committee shall identify and develop a comprehensive set of procedures for assessing students' prior learning. This committee shall work in conjunction with academic departments and colleges to prepare and present documentation on credit for prior learning through non-collegiate activity for review and decision by the Faculty Senate. The procedures developed shall include an appropriate reporting and review mechanism.

5.40.11 The membership shall comprise the members of the Registrar's Advisory Committee, a designee of the Faculty Senate Academic Standards and Calendar Committee and a designee of the Faculty Senate Curricular Affairs Committee. The committee shall select its chairperson.

Background and Rationale:

On May 12, 1988, the Faculty Senate approved the establishment of the Prior Learning Assessment Committee as recommended by the Ad Hoc Committee on Credit for Non Collegiate Activity. The new committee was charged to identify and develop a comprehensive set of procedures for assessing prior learning. Its membership to comprise representatives of the colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Continuing Education, Human Sciences and Services, Nursing and Resource Development, and of the Offices of Admissions and the Registrar.

During the summer, the Executive Committee discussed the possibility of asking that some members of the Registrar's Advisory Committee which is currently comprised of representatives of the Colleges (assistant and associate deans) and the Offices of Admissions and the Registrar, to take on the responsibility of the Prior Learning Assessment Committee. Because the administration of a policy on the assessment of credit for prior learning for each college would be their responsibility, the members of the Registrar's Advisory Committee agreed that it would be appropriate to establish a subcommittee of their group to serve in this capacity. Since all of the members of the Registrar's Advisory Committee are administrators, the Executive Committee agreed that two faculty members representing the Academic Standards and Calendar Committee and the Curricular Affairs Committee should be added to the membership of the Prior Learning Assessment Committee.
